

Friday Music Club in Kiwanis Program

MR. AND MRS. JIM HART

MRS. CLARENCE GEIST

As a part of National Music May 3-10, Mrs. Clarence Geist, president of the Friday Music Club, had charge of the Kiwanis Club Program Tuesday. She stated that the Friday Music Club is 41 years old and presently numbers 27 members, all of whom are active in club meetings and projects.

Mrs. Geist then presented Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hart, assumed his duties as minister of music and education at First Baptist Church in mid-March. He is also a member of the Century-men, a group of 100 male singers specially selected from Baptist churches all over the Southern Baptist Convention, which is quite an honor for Mr. Hart and First Baptist Church. Mrs. Hart is a talented vocalist and soloist who sings with First Baptist Church Choir.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart thrilled their listeners as they sang in beautifully blending voices, "A Tribute to Rombert," a medley of Sigmund Rombert compositions that brought back memories to many of the Kiwanians present. Mr. and Mrs. Hart were accompanied by Mrs. W.H. Peterson, Jr.

Jim Allen of El Dorado was the only out-of-town guest. Guests from Hope were Mrs. W.A. Mudgett, Mrs. K.G. Hamilton, Mrs. Guy Grigg, Mrs. Arch Wylie, and Key Clubbers, Lynn Norton and David Still.

Chevron Oil Indicted for Pollution

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — In the first action of its kind, a federal grand jury has indicted a major oil company on charges arising from a massive offshore oil spill.

The Chevron Oil Co. was cited Tuesday on 900 counts of willfully violating government regulations aimed at preventing pollution from oil wells drilled at sea.

Conviction on all counts could result in fines totaling $1.8 million.

In Washington, Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who had asked for the grand jury probe of Chevron's offshore operations, said enforcement of federal oil well safety rules is going to be strict.

"We will be fair but we will be tough," said Hickel. "The future of our environment is at stake in those offshore areas which are precious for many other resources besides oil and gas."

The grand jury said Chevron knowingly and willfully failed to install and maintain storm chokes or similar subsurface control devices on 90 oil wells off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

"We are confident that when the case is tried, we will be completely vindicated," said K. H. Shaffer of New Orleans, president of Chevron.

The company is owned by Standard Oil of California, one of the nation's biggest oil firms.

The indictment stemmed from an investigation which began March 31—the day Chevron finally capped the last of a cluster of wild wells connected to a platform standing in 40 feet of water, 30 miles off the coast. The area is about 75 miles southeast of New Orleans.

A fire had erupted on the platform Feb. 10 touching off a gush of oil and gas which burned until the flames were snuffed out by a dynamite blast March 10. For the next 21 days, the oil spewed into the Gulf while specialists struggled to tame the wells.

Indictments against Chevron were the first under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act of 1953, which provides a maximum $2,000 fine for each day of each violation.

Reds Boycott Peace Parley on Bombing

By STEPHENS BROENING

Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — Hanoi accused the United States of continuing air raids over North Vietnam and said it was boycotting today's peace talks session as a protest and a warning. The meeting was canceled.

Spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le said American planes had bombed populated areas of North Vietnam every day from May 1 thorough Tuesday. He said American planes raided in North Vietnam in an area south of the 19th Parallel at 1 p.m. Vietnam time Tuesday.

Le told a news conference the attacks were "barbarous acts of war" which violated the U.S. pledge to stop the bombing. The bomb halt was a key element in the agreement to begin plenary negotiations among North Vietnam, the Viet Cong, South Vietnam and the United States.

"To express its firm protest against these extremely grave acts of the United States," Le said, "the delegation of the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam declares it will not participate in the 60th plenary session of the Paris conference."

He said North Vietnam was ready to meet again May 14.

Viet Cong spokesman Ly Van Sau said the Viet Cong was backing the boycott "to express its profound indignation and vigorous protest" against U.S. bombing and "widening of the war throughout Indochina."

U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Habib, acting delegation chief, said, "We reject the reasons they have given and the false allegations that accompanied them."

"This is further evidence of the intransigence and unwillingness to engage in meaningful negotiations which have characterized their attitude here," he said.

"Hanoi has taken upon itself the responsibility for refusing to meet today as had been agreed. The burden rests squarely on them."

Habib said it had always been understood that despite the bomb halt the United States reserved the right to pursue reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam.

McMath May Run for Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Sid McMath said Tuesday night he is seriously considering seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination this year.

He said, however, in a television interview that he had made "no definite plans."

McMath also said he believed the Democratic nominee will have a "good chance to win" in November. He predicted that other candidates will enter the Democratic field in the next few weeks. Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell and Robert Compton, an El Dorado attorney, have already filed.

McMath served as governor from 1949-53 but was defeated in his bid for a third term. He lost to Sen. John L. McClellan in a 1954 Senate race and was among the also-rans when former Gov. Orval E. Faubus won his fifth term in 1962.

Pennsylvania Democrat who heads the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he was impressed by the meeting with Nixon—and so were the other members of his panel.

Indiana Rep. Ross E. Adair, senior Republican on the Foreign Affairs Committee, called the briefings impressive and forthright.

"They answered," he said, "many of the questions and objections that have been raised."

He said the Cambodian operation was going better than expected, with low casualties and less hostile diplomatic reaction than anticipated.

"When the operation is going well both militarily and diplomatically," Adair said, "it seems to me we have reason for optimism."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the House Foreign Affairs Committee met with Nixon in the afternoon. The Armed Services committees of both chambers conferred with the President in a morning session.

The Senate's No. 2 Republican, Michigan's Robert P. Griffin, who also attended the afternoon session, said Nixon was excellent in presenting the administration's policy.

"He made clear his intention of not expanding the war, Griffin told newsmen. "The invasion of the Communist sanctuary would actually limit the war,

Pollution

at Worst in Canada

By ED SIMON

Canadian Press Writer
SUDBURY, Ont. (AP) — The bleak countryside around this world nickel capital offers a textbook example of the ultimate effects of industrial pollution.

The natural rock formations of the mineral rich terrain are complemented by slag heaps. Mile after mile is totally devoid of vegetation and only the tall chimneys of the huge nickel smelters destroy the impression of a lunar landscape.

The desolation is manmade but most of the damage was done before International Nickel and Falconbridge, the two major nickel producers, were born.

It resulted from the primitive technology employed by the pioneer companies when nickel was first mined in the area in 1883.

In order to remove sulphur dioxide, the ore was roasted in open fires, which had to be fed with huge quantities of wood from the surrounding area.

After the trees were felled, lumbermen returned to dig up the rotting stumps, which were used to damp down the fires to provide a more even heat. The intensive operation, abetted by forest fires, eroded the topsoil and the land became sterile.

The roasting process was abandoned as uneconomic in the 1920s and Inco and Falconbridge built their smelters. They deposited their tailings, or rock waste, on the already devastated territory.

The smelters created new problems. They poured liquid waste into creeks leading to Kelly Lake, a few miles southwest of Sudbury, which became a sewage lagoon or municipal cesspool. And their chimneys filled the air with sulphur dioxide.

For decades, Sudbury was content to live with the effects of the pungent gas, which produced acidity in rain water, corroding buildings and metal, reducing the fertility of the already unproductive soil and occasionally pervading the city with its unmistakable odor.

As the community became more pollution conscious, Inco and Falconbridge researchers sought solutions. Both companies introduced extraction methods to reclaim some of the gas, Inco marketing it as liquid sulphur dioxide and sulphuric acid and Falconbridge producing pure sulphur.

A year ago, Inco announced plans to replace its chimneys, ranging from 350 to 615 feet in height, with a 1,250-foot smokestack, the world's highest which will release its fumes at high velocity to an altitude of 4,000 feet. High winds at that height are expected to help disperse the gas.

The $13-million project was described as "only an interim measure" by Don Fraser, assistant general manager of the company.

Although Inco was confident that the gas would be effectively dissipated at the higher altitude, the plan was greeted with apprehension by such communities as North Bay, 79 miles to the east, which feared it would inherit the problem.

The city of Sudbury, under vigorous prodding from the Ontario Water Resources Commission, pushed ahead at the same time with plans for a municipal sewage disposal plant big enough to handle the liquid waste of the nickel companies as well as the requirements of its 85,000 residents and those of satellite communities.

And lately, Inco scientists have begun doing something about Sudbury's original blight.

The have devised a method of seeding part of the smelter's eroded waste-disposal area with a mixture of grass and fall rye, enabling the sturdier grass to protect the grass in its first two years of growth.

With careful fertilization, 500 acres have been converted to grassland, and tree growth has begun on the grassed areas, enable him to help save American lives and continue withdrawal of troops on schedule" from Vietnam.

The senior GOP member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, George D. Aiken of Vermont, agreed with a part of Griffin's assessment.

Nixon was a very skilled moderator during the meeting, Aiken told reporters, but then he differed: "I wouldn't say we received a wealth of new information . . . nor would I say that many minds have changed."

And as the present thoughts of the national legislators remained in cast, there was no apparent lessening of the sounds of protests from many college campuses.

Democratic party to the Republican party.

"I have made it eminently clear that were the job offered to me, and I don't expect it to be . . . I would have no desire for it," Rockefeller said. "I have no desire for public service outside the state of Arkansas."

The governor was asked when he might announce whether he will seek a third term.

"I'm in no rush," he said. "I watch with interest each day as additional candidates announce. I think maybe it would be just as well for me to postpone until after I get back from the State Department trip."

He was referring to a 10-day visit he and five other governors are to make to France to study industrialization in that nation. He said the trip to France was not a prelude to any ambassadorship. He noted that a new ambassador was named recently, "and I see no likelihood of a sudden change."

The governor said he would not wait until the final filing day — June 16 — to announce whether he will seek re-election.

Ohio.
Victory in the Alabama runoff will equal election as governor, because Republicans already have indicated they will not field a candidate this year.

Tuesday's inconclusive margin made it hard to forecast the eventual outcome—but the leader in the opening primary has invariably won Alabama run-offs.

That route took Wallace to his election as governor eight years ago. After serving the one term limit, Wallace passed the governorship on to his late wife, Lurleen, who won overwhelming election.

Brewer was then lieutenant governor—and a Wallace protégé. He assumed the governorship when Mrs. Wallace died of cancer, just two years ago.

In 1968, Wallace polled nearly 700,000 votes in sweeping the presidential balloting in Alabama. It was one of five Deep South states he carried.

Incident at U. of A. Is Non-Violent

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — About 75 University of Arkansas students blocked the school's campus driveway for about 45 minutes Tuesday to protest the invasion of Cambodia and what they termed the "war here at home."

No incident was reported although a spokesman said there was screaming and yelling by protesters and other students. The spokesman said the students halted traffic on one street on the campus.

The students later presented a petition listing five demands to Dean P. C. Pilcher, vice president of academic affairs.

The petition asked the university to:

— End academic credit for ROTC.

— End all government research contracts on war projects.

— Ask President Nixon to end the war.

— Offer classes in imperialism.

— Cancel classes Friday for a teach-in and an official day of mourning for the Kent State University students who were shot by National Guardsmen Monday.

Pilcher told the group: "I feel that you people eloquently and peaceably made your point . . . You communicated in a responsible fashion."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!
This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

MOTHERS' DAY TRIBUTE

Dear Helen: For her special day, here's my version of WHAT IS A MOTHER?

Between the impishness of teen-age and the pleasant love of grandmotherhood, we find an understanding, useful, caring woman called a MOTHER.

Mothers come in "super special" packages—and in all sorts of short, long, mini, maxi dresses, also bellbottoms, or just plain jeans; with delicate voice calling you for dinner when company is here, and a harsh voice when you are out later on a date than you are supposed to be; but still inside, they are alike.

Mothers are not hard to find, because they are usually at the supermarket, dress shop, beauty salon or any other places where she can spend money.

When you want to ask her something crazy or serious or just a "May I go out with Whatzisname tonight?" she usually gives you a grin and the same phrase, "Go ask your father, Honey."

No one is more likely to brag about her kids, and to cry at the thought that they'll be "leaving her soon"—in 20 years or so.

She goes for roses, a box of dark chocolates from Dad, and her budget raised for the house, which she really uses for the family. She also likes making hot pink dresses with ribbons on them for her little girl, who may be age 15. She groans about PTA but wouldn't miss a meeting. She loves planning parties and being elected chairman of her women's club (about which she also groans).

She doesn't really like Dad to come home from work late, or his other stock excuses for not cleaning out the garage, etc. She doesn't dig washing dishes, so she leaves dishwasher ads around and Dad thinks it was HIS idea to buy one.

She has the appetite of a Twigg to watch her figure, and feels hurt if Dad doesn't. She also has the ability to run through a shopping center during Christmas man rush and come out with just the right gifts; the disposition of a squirrel, and a heart as warm as a fireplace.

Only a mother can close her purse, containing: one tube of lipstick, (well, maybe three), a compact, a comb, a picture of her daughter, son and husband, etc., a wallet which is empty, a handful of change, a scarf, checks, gloves, pins, recipes, a charge card, another charge card, and still more charge cards, keys to the house, car and various other things not forgotten, pen and pencil, note pad, paper tissues, gum, breath mints, and at least a dozen other items.

She has the love of God, the sympathy of a child mourning over an abandoned cat, and the wrath of Ralph Nader when she feels she is being cheated.

You can lose her in a store, but find her chatting with a person she doesn't even know.

You may tell your friends she is mean, and won't let you do anything, but when you are in trouble, just call for her and she'll be there before you can say "Nobody loves me."

You know you can't do without her, so why try? Just be pleasant and helpful as you can. It's worth it. You'll see! —M.ONG

White Sox Nip Indians By 2-1 Score

By DICK CONICH

Associated Press Sports Writer
The ball is beginning to bounce right for Tommy John and the Chicago White Sox, but Gene Brabender and the Milwaukee Brewers still are getting nothing but bad hops. John, backed by five double plays, hurled the White Sox past Cleveland 2-1 Tuesday night for their fourth victory in the last five games. The Chicago left-hander has won his last two starts after a string of five straight setbacks. Brabender pitched five perfect innings, then was raked for five runs in the sixth, as the Boston Red Sox blanked Milwaukee 6-0 behind Sonny Siebert's three-hitter and extended the Brewer's losing streak to nine games.

In other American League action, Tony Oliva powered Minnesota to an 8-5 verdict over Detroit, Baltimore rode four home runs to a 7-3 victory over Kansas City, Oakland rocked the New York Yankees 11-3 and Washington downed California 6-1.

In the National League, Cincinnati trimmed St. Louis 5-1, Atlanta bombed Pittsburgh 12-6, Los Angeles topped the New York Mets 4-0; Houston beat the Chicago Cubs 3-1, San Francisco whipped Montreal 4-1 and San Diego topped Philadelphia 11-8. John scattered six hits at Cleveland, where the White Sox and Indians tied a major league record by combining to reel off nine double plays. Luis Aparicio's run-scoring double off Dean Chance in the fifth inning snapped a 1-1 tie and John protected the lead the rest of the way.

"He lost his first five, but he can win his next six or seven," said Chicago Manager Don Gutierrez. "There's no doubt in my mind that he's better than a .500 pitcher."

Brabender, who had beaten Boston nine days ago for his lone victory of the season, retired the Red Sox in order for 5 1-3 innings, then walked Tom Satriano. Siebert followed with a double into the left field corner, and before the inning was over, Brabender was behind 5-0. Reggie Smith's bases-loaded double delivered the first two runs; only Conigliaro singled another homer; George Scott drew a bases-loaded walk and the fifth run crossed the plate on an error by third baseman Tommy Harper.

Oliva drove in two first-inning runs with his fourth homer, laced a run-scoring single in the third and added three more RBI in the fifth with a bases-loaded triple, leading the Twins' assault on Detroit's Mickey Lolich.

Luis Tiant picked up his fifth mound victory without a loss, but needed relief help in the sixth after yielding two hits... and a club record of nine walks. Dave Johnson's two-run homer in the fourth inning overcame a 2-1 Kansas City lead and touched off the Orioles' long-ball barrage. Elrod Hendricks followed with a bases-empty blast; Brooks Robinson connected with one on the fifth and Boog Powell slammed a seventh-inning solo shot.

Dave Duncan stroked four hits, including a double and single in Oakland's six-run eighth-inning spree, as the A's ended the Yanks' winning string at five games behind the six-hit pitching of Jim "Catfish" Hunter.

Lee Maye paced the Senators with two hits and as many RBI while ex-Angel southpaw George Brunet checked his former mates with late relief help from Horacio Pina.

NFL Grades 38 Players

NEW YORK (AP) — A total of 38 players changed teams in 22 trades in the realigned National Football League's first interconference trading period, from Jan. 19 to May 1.

Thirteen draft choices also changed hands as 21 of the NFL's 26 clubs made at least one deal. Only Atlanta, Boston, Dallas, Detroit and Philadelphia did not make a transaction.

The most active teams were the New Orleans Saints and the New York Giants. The Saints gave up five players and a draft choice for two players and four draft choices.

Coach Broyles Little League Baseball Schedule 1970 Is Worried, As Usual

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles is worried.

Spring practice is over at Fayetteville and he says he still doesn't know who will be in the lineup when the Razorbacks open against Stanford University at Little Rock Sept. 12.

"This is the first time since 1967 that I've been in this position," he said.

The 1967 spring was the fore-runner of a 4-5-1 season, the worst at Arkansas in the past 11 years.

Broyles is not predicting a 4-5-1 season or anything close to that for the Razorbacks, who have put 9-1 records back to back.

"We didn't have the many fine seniors like we do now," he said. "I refer to 1967 because we shuffled players in September, shuffled all of October and were still shuffling in November."

"We may have the same problem at some positions this fall," he said.

"You need to have an idea of who to start with when you return in the fall," Broyles said. "If you don't and you make a mistake, you're wasting time on someone who isn't going to play and you're slighting someone who needs all the work he can get."

"We feel very good about the boys that played last year," Broyles said. "Their performance in the spring was exceptional, but we have not settled the positions that were left open by graduating seniors. This is a dangerous situation to have because it shows you don't have the needed experience or ability."

Graduation claimed All-American center Rodney Brand, guard Jerry Dossey and tackle Bob Stankovich from the offensive line and linebackers Cliff Powell and Lynn Garner, defensive halfback Terry Stewart and safety Dennis Berner from the defense.

"We don't know who our offensive linemen are and that is a tragic state to be in," he said. "We don't know who our defensive backs are, and that is a tragic state to be in."

Broyles was not pleased with last week's intrasquad game at Fayetteville in which Bill Montgomery's White team defeated Joe Ferguson's Red team 20-13. The week before the Reds had beaten the Whites 23-16.

"It was not one of our better spring games," Broyles said. "We lined up in a defense that we ought to have been able to run against, and we couldn't run. We couldn't throw, mostly because of dropped passes. We couldn't get the ball across the goalline often enough when we put it down there."

Knicks Try to Wrap up Series Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Physically the question rests with Willis Reed of New York, psychologically it's the Los Angeles Lakers who need the answers tonight in the battle which could decide the championship of the National Basketball Association. Reed, who already had miseries in his knees, suffered a severely bruised hip in the first quarter of Monday night's fifth game of the playoffs in New York. He went out. The Knickerbockers went on.

Trailing by 13 points at the half, they humiliated the Lakers and beat them 107-100 with their big man and the league's Most Valuable Player unable to see duty.

After receiving treatment by both heat and sound for his ailing upper thigh muscle, Reed said he was optimistic of playing tonight.

"We'll just play it by ear and decide at game time," commented Coach Red Holzman who could see his Knicks take their first NBA title. They lead the best-of-seven series three games to two.

When Reed went out of the game, the Lakers led by 10 points. Now they must muster their forces and try to overcome the psychological disadvantage of losing a game they must have expected to win easily.

Ex-Laker Dick Barnett commented: "It's quite possible that the loss of Reed hurt the Lakers as much as it did us. It hurt them psychologically. They had to figure that without Reed it would be a breeze for them."

However, odds don't stand with the whirling dervish tactics of the Knicks holding up twice in a row — although they could, Dave DeBusschere and Dave Stallworth alternated in defense against Wilt Chamberlain in that second half, which meant the Knicks were playing without a center but with an extra forward.

The game starts at 7 p.m. PDT with the national telecast blacked out in the Los Angeles area where several closed circuit TV outlets are available. Once again, the Forum is sold out to a crowd of 17,500.

In the two previous Forum meetings, the games went into overtime in this final playoff series. The Knicks won 111-108 the first time, the Lakers came back to triumph 121-115 in the second to square things at 2-2.

Basketball Banquet at Emmet

The Emmet School Basketball Banquet was held Friday night, May 1, in the high school auditorium. Rev. Calvin Miller, pastor of First United Methodist Church, Emmet, gave the invocation after which a delicious dinner was enjoyed. The Auditorium was beautifully decorated with pink and purple as the color scheme. Roses interspersed with candles and mock orange decorated the tables. Marilyn Trexler, president of the student council, introduced the speaker, Coach W.T. Watson, Assistant Professor of Physical Education and Head Basketball Coach at Southern State College. He spoke on "Challenge to be a Champion". Coach Frank Faulkner recognized the Junior Boys present. Jimmy Don Hill was presented a sweater patch for being selected an all-county player.

Sweater patches were presented to the Junior girls who were the Nevada County champions. Anita Dougan was recognized as being selected an all-county player.

Senior girls receiving sweaters were: Vicki Faulkner, Toni Burke, Mary Harris, Lillie Leary, Jo Ann Muldrew, Cindy Clary, Kathy Chambliss and Ann Avery, Scorekeeper. Those receiving blankets were Diana Warren, Belinda Lambert, Becky Key, and Marilyn Trexler.

The senior boys were recognized as being the Nevada County Champs. Sweaters were presented to Jackie Harris, Jimmy Dougan, Vernon Block, Elijah Jenkins and Donnie Dougan. Jack-llams, Michael Black, Billy Don Stewart, Manager, Johnny Wake, David Vosburg, Dennis McBride, who was named all-county, and Geary Muldrew, who was named all-county and all-district.

A gift was presented to Coach Faulkner in appreciation for his outstanding job.

The "tree of life" probably was the date palm.

Pacers Lead Colonels 3-1 in Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Indiana Pacers can wrap up the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division final playoffs on their home court at Indianapolis tonight by again beating the Kentucky Colonels.

The Pacers took a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-7 series by whipping the Colonels at Louisville Tuesday night 111-103.

The Los Angeles stars also took a 3-1 lead over Denver in the Western Division final playoffs by beating the Rockets at Long Beach, Calif., 114-110. The fifth game of this best-of-7 will be played Saturday afternoon in Denver and will be nationally televised by CBS.

Roger Brown threw in 33 points to lead the Pacers. The Colonels rallied to within 72-70 in the third period led by Gene Moore's 26 points, but they couldn't get any closer.

"We're sure going to try to wrap it up Wednesday night," said Bob Leonard, the Indiana coach. "We won't concede anything," countered Gene Rhodes, coach of the Colonels.

Los Angeles blew a 12-point lead in the last period to fall behind by three points, but then rallied to beat the Rockets.

Down by 97-85, the Rockets went on a 24-9 spree to go ahead 109-106. But the Stars tied it on three free throws. They then went ahead to stay at 111-109 with two minutes left on a lay-up by Bob Warren.

Spencer Haywood of Denver, the ABA's Most Valuable Player, was the game's top scorer with 32 points, 25 in the second half. Merv Jackson was high for the Stars with 25.

Football Game Set for June 27

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Three college footballers have agreed to play in the Coaches All-America Football game June 27 in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium, including placekicker and split end Jim O'Brien of the University of Cincinnati.

O'Brien and Tom Banks a center from Auburn, will play on the East team. Eric Harris, a defensive cornerback from Colorado, signed to play on the West squad.

Boyer Leads Braves Over Pittsburgh

Clete Boyer doesn't want to set the world on fire... just start a little flame in Chief Noc-a-homa's tepee.

Boyer exploded two homers out of spacious Atlanta Stadium Tuesday night to lead the Braves' 12-6 victory over Pittsburgh—and that set off the fireworks in the left field tent of the team's colorful mascot.

Noc-a-homa rejoices with exploding fireworks in the tent and then a crowd-pleasing dance outside everytime the home team hits one out. Boyer's two shots, and Hank Aaron's homer kept him twitching Tuesday night.

"Two homers, that's hard to believe, isn't it?" said an incredulous Boyer, better known for his fielding exploits at third base than his long-ball hitting.

Boyer also said he was thinking about hitting a third home run, but struck out with the bases jammed in the sixth.

The home run ball bounced around the rest of the National League and figured in some of the final margins as San Diego stopped Philadelphia 11-8; Cincinnati turned back St. Louis 5-1; Houston dropped Chicago 3-1, Los Angeles trimmed New York 4-0 and San Francisco beat Montreal 4-1.

In the American League, Minnesota spilled Detroit 8-5; Chicago nipped Cleveland 2-1; Baltimore clipped Kansas City 7-3 Boston beamed Milwaukee 6-0; Oakland wasted New York 11-3 and Washington defeated California 6-1.

Boyer raised his average 17 points to .212 with his 2-for-3 performance. He now has 18 hits and 17 RBI.

"When you've got guys like Aaron, (Rico) Carty and (Orlando) Cepeda batting in front of you, you're going to get some RBI," said Boyer.

Aaron's homer was the 10th this year and 564th of his fabulous career. Hammerin' Hank also is now only 14 away from the magic 3,000-hit career mark.

Aaron's two-run blow capped a seven-run first for the Braves that actually decided the issue. Boyer hit a solo job to left in the third and followed with a three-run blast in the fifth.

Carty extended his hitting streak to 24 games—tops in the majors—with singles in the second and sixth. Hoyt Wilhelm made his 998th appearance, bailing out Braves' starter and winner George Stone in the seventh.

Clarence Gaston's two-run homer keyed a four-run ninth that propelled San Diego over Philadelphia. The Padres battled back after the Phillies scored seven runs in the opening frame and bolted ahead when Steve Huntz hit a leadoff double in the ninth and Gaston unloaded his fourth homer.

Lee May and Bobby Tolan lashed homers in support of Wayne Simpson's three-hit pitching as Cincinnati swept its seventh straight.

Richie Allen had his eighth homer for the Cardinals. Norm Miller clouted a homer behind Larry Dierker's four-hitter as Houston handed the slumping Chicago Cubs their fifth straight loss.

Bill Grabarkewitz and Wes Parker each ripped two-run doubles in Los Angeles' victory over New York. Grabarkewitz's blow scored Parker and Willie Crawford in the sixth inning, snapping a scoreless tie. Parker drove in Von Joshua and Maury Wills in the seventh.

Bobby Bonds stole three bases and drove in two runs with a sixth-inning single in San Francisco's victory. The Expos scored their only run of the game on a ninth-inning homer by Adolfo Phillips.

Australia Loses Bid for Davis Cup

SYDNEY, Australia, (AP) — Australia, for the second straight year, has not lasted long in Davis Cup Tennis competition and nobody seems to care all that much.

Gone is the excitement of the days of intense rivalry between the United States and Australia. India's defeat of Australia in the Eastern Zone final at Bangalore Tuesday was a secondary story on newspaper sports pages here.

Cliff Sproule, chairman of the Australian selectors, said the Davis Cup is finished as a big international event unless it becomes open to professionals.

Sproule said Australia's defeat, for the first time, by India came as a surprise but not as a shock.

Basketball Merger Goes to Congress

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Jack Dolph of the American Basketball Association expressed unguarded optimism Tuesday that Congress would approve a merger between the ABA and the rival National Basketball Association.

"I have no idea how long it will take," he said. "But Congress is expected to recess by Labor Day and we hope to have a decision before then."

"There have been changes in Congress, and we have the disadvantage of not being as glamorous as football, but precedent is a vital aspect of law, and there is a precedent."

Dolph referred to a similar request by the National American football leagues when they sought to merge in 1966. Congress exempted their merger agreement from anti-trust laws.

At present, the leagues are fighting an anti-trust suit filed by NBA players against the merger, contending that it would eliminate competition for players and thus lower salaries.

A federal judge issued a preliminary injunction Monday, prohibiting any agreement between the leagues unless Congress passes enabling legislation.

However, Dolph pointed out that the judge did give the leagues permission to conclude a plan for a single league that could be presented to Congress for approval.

The players have said they also would appear before Congress to fight any approval.

The ABA, from the beginning, had planned on taking the merger case to Congress for approval, even before the players filed their suit, Dolph said. "We always anticipated that Congress had to be asked," he said. "It was a step to be taken toward any merger."

The commissioner said the leagues now have very little left to work out on a merger plan after several months of negotiations prior to a temporary restraining order issued several weeks ago at the request of the NBA players, prohibiting such talks from continuing.

Travelers Nipped 5-3 at Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Despite home runs by Lenny Boyer and Jose Cruz, the Arkansas Travelers dropped a 5-3 Texas League decision to Amarillo here Tuesday night.

Second baseman Mark Cleary paced the Giants with three hits and pitched Gary Ryerson shackled the Travelers on six hits.

Back-to-back triples by Cleary and Jim Howarth and a throwing error resulted in Amarillo scoring two runs in the seventh inning.

Cruz's home was with two out in the sixth gave Arkansas its final run. Len Boyer tied the game 1-1 with his homer in the fifth inning.

The victory was Ryerson's first of the year after three losses. Ray Bare suffered

Razorbaks Sign Iowa Player

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Razorback basketball coach Lanny Van Eman announced Tuesday the signing of his first player — Gary Belger, a 6-foot-4 guard from Iowa City, Iowa.

Belger, an All-State selection, averaged 24.8 points and 13 rebounds a game last season for Regina High School.

Bruins Down St. Louis for Second Time

By PAUL LE BAR

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Boston Bruins' Ken Hodge crooned, "Never any doubt about it," and a dissenting voice was not to be heard after the second game of hockey's Stanley Cup finals Tuesday night.

The Bruins, picking up momentum true to oldster John Bucyk's prediction, inundated the St. Louis Blues 6-2 for a 2-0 advantage in their best-of-7 series.

With games 3 and 4 scheduled for Boston ice Thursday night and Sunday, the outcome left the Bruins' Harry Sinden a happy and only slightly cautious coach.

"I just think we outskated them completely," he said. "They were never in the game. They got two goals off faceoffs and nothing else."

"We've got good defense, good goaltending and we've generally been able to stay away from the bad penalties."

As an afterthought perhaps against overconfidence, Sinden noted, "We figured this was a very big game for us. Everything in sports is unpredictable. I'll just be disappointed if we can't win the next one on our home ice."

In the Bruins' locker room, celebrations of sorts were led by Eddie Westfall, a right winger noted most for his checking ability, and Derek Sanderson, the longhaired center with a gift of gab.

Each contributed two goals to the rout, and Sanderson confessed he thought the scoring would be tougher.

"I thought it would be like 3-2 games the Blues had against Montreal," he said, "but we've been in a real scoring groove since the series against Chicago."

The triumph, coming on the heels of the Bruins' 6-1 victory Sunday on Arena Ice, tied them with four other National Hockey League teams which had won eight straight in previous Cup playoffs.

It also left St. Louis, a team outshot 35-19, winless after 10 Cup finals games, over a three-year span.

"Of course I'm unhappy, but I'm not depressed because I'm a realist," Blues' Coach Scotty Bowman said.

"We just haven't skated well the loss, his third without a victory."

Nineteen-year-old Doyle Alexander set Memphis down on three hits Tuesday night as Albuquerque scored a 3-0 victory over the Blues.

In other league action, El Paso scored six runs in the first inning on the way to a 10-0 victory over Shreveport and San Antonio scored four runs in the third for a 4-2 victory over Dallas-Fort Worth.

Hogan in Tourney at Houston

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ben Hogan, living legend from out of the past, will be the sentimental favorite for the top prize in the $115,000 Houston Champions International Invitational Golf Tournament.

The immortal Texas Hawk, winner of four U.S. Open championships, is not banking too heavily on his brief comeback bid.

"I'm in no shape to win a tournament," the 56-year-old Hogan said Tuesday.

"I just want to find out if I can walk a tournament, if I can play, if I'm in shape to play."

Hogan, one of four men to win all the world's major titles, said he does not plan to return to fulltime—or even steady—competition.

"Don't talk about a comeback," said the balding little man with steel-gray eyes. "I'm playing this week. And if I finish, depending on how I feel and how I do, I might play next week (in the Colonial Invitational in Fort Worth). But the first two games. The games haven't even been close."

In addition to two goals by Westfall in the first period, Boston scored on a power play goal by Fred Stanfield for a 3-0 cushion.

Sanderson's first goal made it 4-0 midway the second period before Terry Gray scored for St. Louis, Sanderson again for the Bruins and Frank St. Marselle for the Blues.

The Bruins were cruising with a 5-2 command in the third period when Bucyk split two Blues' defenders in the final five minutes and closed out the scoring with a shot past Blues' netminder Ernie Wakely.

Bobby Orr and Phil Esposito, the Bruins' superstars didn't score any goals but they both set Stanley Cup records. Orr collected a pair of assists, his 17th and 18th in this season's playoffs, to set a new mark for defensemen. Esposito had one assist, his 22nd, to better the standard for all players.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

I have no plans beyond that." Hogan's last major championship was in the British Open in 1953. His last competitive appearance was in the U.S. Open in 1967, almost three years ago. Since then, he has had an operation on a balky shoulder and recently has been troubled by an old injury to his left knee.

Both his legs were shattered in an automobile accident more than 20 years ago and many doctors predicted he would never walk—let alone play—again.

Hogan said he chose the 7,177-yard par 71 Champions Club golf course to return to competitive golf for several reasons.

"For one thing, the club has done a lot for golf with donations to caddy scholarships and so on. And Jimmy Demeret and Jack Burke who run the club are old friends of mine. And it's a good walking course, not too hilly."

"I thought it would be a good one to try."

Hogan, who has been practicing on the course for almost two weeks, heads a slim field of 95 that begins the 72-hole test Thursday.

While he is the sentimental favorite, betting odds are on leading money winner Lee Trevino and South African Gary Player, both of whom checked in Tuesday.

Many of the top names in the game are skipping the event for one reason or another. Among them are Jack Nicklaus, winner of last week's Byron Nelson

Players Very Cool About Contracts

NEW YORK (AP) — Several items in a new player-owner agreement proposed by the owners are being received coolly by the players, says Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

The players are expected to vote on the proposal as soon as possible.

A one-day baseball moratorium when a nationally televised game is scheduled is likely if the contract is rejected, a player representative, who desired to remain anonymous, said Tuesday in Chicago.

However, Steve Hamilton of the New York Yankees, the representative of the American League players, told the New York Daily News that although Classic, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, PGA Champion Ray Floyd and British Open title holder Tony Jacklin.

Young John Schroeder, who attracted national attention with his brilliant showing in the Palmer-Nicklaus battle last week, isn't eligible for this invitational event.

Frank Beard, the 1969 leading money winner, was a late withdrawal. So was Bob Lunn, winner of the Citrus Invitational earlier this year.

the athletes likely will reject the proposal, the differences do not appear serious enough of warrant a one-day walkout.

Miller said the players' negative reaction is to continuation of the 162-game schedule, increase of the players' cut of the playoff pool from 50 per cent to only 60 per cent and the owners' refusal to pay termination money to a player released during the training season. Players would get 45 days termination pay only if released during the playing season.

Favorable reaction to a proposed minimum salary increase from $10,000 to $12,000 in 1970 to $12,750 in 1971 and to $13,500 in 1972 was reported by Miller.

Mississippi Defeats ASU by 4-3 Score

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Charlie Williams singled home two runs and scattered five hits as the University of Mississippi defeated Arkansas State University 4-3 here Tuesday.

The Rebels scored twice in the second and twice in the third. ASU nicked Williams for single runs in the first, third and fifth innings.

ASU starter Rusty Bourge was forced to leave the game in the third inning when struck in the arm by a line drive off the bat of Rebel shortstop Archie Manning.

A Tribute TO MOTHER On Mother's Day

She was the busiest woman in the world, around whom our family life revolved. She was a pilot who guided our destiny, a general who marshalled our resources. When spirits were low she was a fountain of courage. She coaxed, prodded, spanked and loved us into making the most of our lives. From her lips came guidance and counsel. In the small hours of the night she came at our call. As a cook, maid, tutor, chauffeur and judge she ran the family with a firm but gentle hand. Her inner resources were a constant source of inspiration. Next Sunday we salute and honor all Mothers for their years of love and devotion.

Sgt. Willis Maintains New Bomber

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Master Sergeant James G. Willis, son of Mrs. Garrett Willis of 505 N. Elm St., Hope, Ark., is an aircraft maintenance technician with the first Strategic Air Command (SAC) unit to receive the new FB-111A strategic bomber. The 340th Bomb Group, Carswell AFB, Tex., provides maintenance and combat training for support personnel and the aircrews who will fly the dual seat supersonic aircraft when it becomes a part of the SAC deterrent force. Simulated and actual flight training is accomplished at Carswell and maintenance personnel receive ground instruction on components such as the bombers new Mark 11B Navigation-Bombing equipment and the highly sophisticated Terrain Following Radar System. The latter permits the aircraft to approach targets at a level that eludes detection by any known radar. Sergeant Willis is playing a key role in the Air Force's program of adding the versatile bomber to its inventory. Sergeant Willis, a 1952 graduate of Hope High School, has served in Thailand. His wife, Betty, is the daughter of Mrs. Henry Saunders of 520 N. Elm St. Hope.

Guard Pulls Out From Kent State

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A phased withdrawal of National Guard troops begins today at the Kent State University campus, scene of the fatal shooting of four students at an antiwar demonstration. Brig. Gen. Robert H. Canterbury, commander of the 800 men on duty at the closed and silent school, said the force would be cut in half during the forenoon. The Kent State faculty senate, representing 1,170 full-time instructors, adopted a resolution Tuesday vowing to refuse to resume teaching until the Guard relinquished control of the area. In another development, the executive director of the Ohio American Civil Liberties Union called on Gov. James A. Rhodes to remove Adj. Gen. S. T. Del Corso as Ohio National Guard commander. The official, Benson Wolman, declared the guardsmen who cut down the students with a burst of rifle fire were "ill-trained, overzealous and poorly controlled." FBI and Guard investigators continued to probe how and why four students—including two coeds and all described by friends and relatives as disavowing violent protest—were gunned down by guardsmen trying to disperse the demonstration Monday. Del Corso said Tuesday he had no evidence to back up his earlier assertion that a sniper had fired at the guardsmen just before they started shooting. The university asked the FBI to investigate an incident in which a pistol was taken from a 19-year-old student photographer Monday. The photographer, Terrance B. Norman, was quoted in a university statement as saying he had been asked by the FBI and university police to photograph the disturbances and had been handed press credentials by the police. Norman, the statement said, was beaten by demonstrators.

Charles Gordone 1st Negro Ever to Win Pulitzer Play Prize

EDITOR'S NOTE—This week the 1970 Pulitzer Prize for drama was awarded to Charles Gordone, the first Negro to win the honor in the playwriting category. But Gordone is only one of a new group of black authors making their mark in the theater. William Glover, AP drama writer, analyzes the development in the following article.

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Their plays are loud, clear, fiercely intense. And together, emergent black dramatists are giving American theater a significant jolt of new vitality.

Award of the 1970 Pulitzer Prize to Charles Gordone for "No Place to Be Somebody," a seething image of ghetto turmoil, simply accords official recognition to a cultural force that has been gaining strength for several years. "There is no truth that speaks so clearly to me as the truth of my own experience," said John O'Neal, a leader of the Free Southern Theater, and the remark characterizes the what and why which spur Gordone and others in the black authorship brigade.

Most of the dramas, developing off-Broadway and to a smaller degree in regional playhouses, burn with the passionate desperation of personal experience.

In style, they range widely from the invective anger of LeRoi Jones and Ed Bullins—both of whom would rather speak only to black audiences—to the satiric mockery of Douglas Turner Ward and Vinnette Carroll.

A few have recently made it to Broadway, where reputedly, the first play by a Negro, Garland Anderson, was staged in 1925. Among them: the late Lorraine Hansberry with "A Raisin in the Sun," James Baldwin with "Blues for Mr. Charlie" and Ossie Davis, whose "Purlie Victorious" is currently reincarnated as the musical "Purlie."

Although many of the plays during one phase of the new candor culminated over historic suppression of their people, the writers today direct criticism against the black community and waved the gun in self-defense. The school said the gun had not been fired. But a man identifying himself only as a special officer for Portage County said he saw a cameraman firing his pistol between the advancing guardsmen and the crowd of students. Canterbury said it was standard practice for guardsmen to carry loaded weapons at the scene of disturbances, but that Kent students had not been specifically informed of the practice. Canterbury said the Guard did not consider warning shots a generally good practice. He said guardsmen were not ordered to fire, but may fire if they feel their lives are endangered. Canterbury, who was with the force of some 100 guardsmen involved, said all were bruised by thrown rocks and "I felt I could have been killed out there."

The faculty Senate's resolution said: "In this moment of grief we pledge that in the future we shall not teach in circumstances which are likely to lead to the deaths and wounding of our students."

"We cannot keep the civil authorities from assuming control of our campus, but we can—and do—refuse to teach in a climate that is inimicable to the safety of our students and to the principles of academic freedom."

The resolution went on to blame Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and Del Corso for the deaths, saying, "We hold the guardsmen, acting under orders and under severe psychological pressure less responsible for the massacre than our Gov. Rhodes and Gen. Del Corso, whose inflammatory indoctrination produced this pressure."

University President Dr. Robert I. White told reporters that "at this time, it is not possible to say when a reopening can occur."

Except for about 200 foreign students living in off-campus housing, Kent State's 19,000 students had been sent home. Officials at Robinson Memorial Hospital in nearby Ravenna said three students wounded by rifle fire and previously listed in critical condition had improved. In all, 10 students were treated for exhaustion and shock. Portage County Coroner Dr. Robert Sybert said the bodies of the four dead students had been released to their parents.

also against "Uncle Tomism," over-militancy and other matters. If there are almost as many dramatic viewpoints as there are hopeful writers, nearly everything being done bristles with verbal power and articulate imagery. In the reach for expression, conventional dramatic forms are often ignored, but experiment is rarely obscure.

Increasing dramatic activity within the black community has gone hand-in-hand with the writer's eruption. While the Negro Ensemble Theater is off-Broadway's outstanding example of sustained interracial endeavor, Harlem is busy with the New Heritage Repertory Theater, the National Black Theater Workshop and other groups.

With help from the 20th Century Fund, a private foundation, the Black Academy of Arts and Letters was established last year to promote recognition and cooperation.

Black self-expression and the theatrical viability of racial themes also have influenced white playwrights. Recent plays by white authors dealing with the black experience have been "The Great White Hope," "Big Time Buck White," "The Universal Nigger," and "The Trial of A. Lincoln."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Two fine television programs in a single May evening—the viewer's cup really ran over Tuesday night.

First there came a graphic demonstration of the agony and exhilaration of mountain climbing in NBC's "Once Before I Die." Later CBS showed California impressions of photographer Henri Cartier-Bresson.

The NBC program was a film and sound account of the exploits of a group of Americans, Sunday climbers who conquered a 20,000-foot peak in Afghanistan's Hindu Kush range.

The party was accompanied by a talented cameraman who had never climbed a mountain before. But he captured the awesome scenery and effort. The sound track often recorded only the gasping for breath by weary men in the high altitude.

The documentary started by introducing the audience to the adventures in their normal surroundings. There were twin 53-year-old brothers—the spark-plugs of the expedition—a court stenographer, an electronics expert, a ski enthusiast.

As their expedition progressed their troubles multiplied—bad roads, rough terrain—and their determination increased.

By the end of the program, there was a satisfying answer to that old question of why men want to climb high peaks.

"It's the struggle," explained one man, but it was obvious throughout that each man was straining to the top in a test of himself.

It was a beautifully executed and very satisfying hour.

Cartier-Bresson caught the spirit of California life in the half-hour film essay on CBS. He caught in his motion picture camera scenes that were wildly funny, softly sentimental, savagely satiric and suddenly sympathetic.

The mixture pretty much defies description. The photographer watched the fun at a senior citizens enclave, lingered over the faces of high school girls trying to keep a smile on while trying out for cheerleader. An earnest woman talked of the dangers of pesticides. Surfers mooned over their girls, antiwar demonstrators sang "The Star Spangled Banner" off key while hard-faced onlookers booed.

Most of it was accompanied by a musical score that made its points and there was blessed little unnecessary commentary.

Our French visitor who achieved fame as a still photographer saw a lot, said a lot and did it beautifully.

Brown Added to FBI's Wanted List

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI expanded its list of "10 Most Wanted Fugitives" to 11 today to make room for H. Rap Brown, the black militant who failed to appear Monday for his riot and arson trial.

Brown, the FBI said, should be "considered armed and dangerous."

The addition of the 26-year-old black militant leader came less than two days after the Maryland attorney general's office obtained a federal warrant charging him with interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

It also marked the first time in two years—since James Earl Ray was being sought for the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.—that the FBI failed to wait for a top-10 vacancy before adding another man.

A former chairman of SNCC—the Student National Coordinating Committee—Brown was to stand trial in Ellicott City, Md., on charges stemming from a fiery 1967 speech he made in Cambridge, Md., shortly before disorders erupted in a black area of the city.

When he failed to appear, Howard County Circuit Judge James Mac Gilli revoked Brown's $10,000 bond and issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

The black militant actually had been missing since March 9 when his trial, later shifted to Ellicott City, first began in Bel Air, Md.

The proceedings were shifted to Ellicott City after two of Brown's friends died in an automobile explosion just outside Bel Air and another blast ripped through the courthouse at nearby Cambridge.

Since then, his attorneys have maintained they don't know where he is, although they believe he is still alive.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Brown also is scheduled for trial June 15 at New Orleans on charges of assaulting a federal officer in February 1968.

He was free on bond while appealing a New Orleans conviction for violating the Federal Firearms Act. Unless overturned, that sentence could result in a five-year prison term and a $2,000 fine.

In describing Brown as dangerous, the FBI noted he has been convicted of carrying a concealed weapon and carrying pistols in a car without a permit.

He was described as 6-foot-3 with a medium build, brown eyes, black hair and a dark complexion. He lived with his wife in New York City until his disappearance two months ago.

Brown was the second fugitive in two days to be named to the FBI list. Lawrence Robert Plamondon, 25, the accused bomber of a Central Intelligence Agency recruiting office in Michigan, was added Tuesday.

the White River Bridge. 6926 Hot Spring—Surfacing of 8.8 miles of Arkansas 290, including remodeling of two bridges, from the Arkansas 51 junction north of Jones Mill southeastward.

McClerkin Unswayed by Faubus

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — House Speaker Hayes McClerkin, a probable candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Tuesday night he would not shy away from the race because of the presence of former Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

"I would look forward to the opportunity of running and beating Orval Faubus and Winthrop Rockefeller in one year," McClerkin said in an interview.

Faubus went on television Friday night to say he was ready to run and ask for a show of support. Rockefeller has not said whether he will seek a third term.

McClerkin said "all indications" are that both Faubus and Rockefeller will run. He said he would announce his own political plans within the next two or three weeks.

McClerkin was also asked whether he believed Rep. George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith would oppose Rockefeller in the Republican primary. Nowotny announced recently that he would run for governor if Rockefeller decided not to seek a third term. Since Nowotny's announcement, Rep. Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock switched to the Republican party and announced that he will run for governor or lieutenant governor.

"What has transpired since his (Nowotny's) announcement could lead to a very interesting Republican primary," McClerkin said. He said he believed Cockrill would run for lieutenant governor.

Referring to Cockrill's party switch, McClerkin said, "I will not seek another party or plaudits that will make me sound like a parrot."

McClerkin was also asked about the possibility that Mrs.

One Firm for Passenger Trains, Plan

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill aiding the nation's financially troubled railroad passenger trains rode smoothly toward expected final approval in the Senate today.

The proposal would establish a profitmaking corporation to take over much of the nation's ailing rail passenger service in much the same way COMSAT operates the country's satellite communications system.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said the single-corporation proposal, a substitute for a bill approved earlier by the Senate Commerce Committee, has the complete support of the Nixon administration.

Another substitute proposal, offered by Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., would establish three regional corporations to operate on a nonprofit basis.

Opening debate on the single-corporation plan Tuesday, Hartke told the Senate:

"This country needs all modes of transportation operating at their maximum efficiency if in the 1970s Americans are to be able to travel from city to city safely, comfortably and in reasonable time."

Hartke noted the administration opposed a direct subsidy plan when it was before the Commerce Committee but changed its position when key changes were made.

The plan before committee would have provided $435 million over four years in direct federal subsidies for the purchase of new equipment and for operating expenses.

Alta Faubus, ex-wife of the former governor, might run for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"I would assume that she wants to be a sincere candidate and it may be she wants to bring out some of the shortcomings of her former husband," he said. "At the same time, from the standpoint of the party, we don't want to have a primary that really and truly we could lose context of what the real purpose of the primary is."

More Than 5 Senses, So Claims Author of Mountain View, Ark.

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Harold Sherman of Mountain View, founder of the ESP Research Associates Foundation in Little Rock, believes that everyone has the power of extrasensory perception.

The author of several books on the subject, including "How to Make ESP Work for You," Sherman contends that ESP can be developed within the individual once he has been made aware he has the powers.

However, Sherman says ESP cannot be forced. He said if an individual attempts to force his ESP then it becomes a physical exercise, rather than mental discipline.

Sherman said in an interview that the reason many people relate having ESP, or experiences outside the five senses, during a time of stress is because their mind is more receptive.

"Your mind generates power and emotional feeling, that is it occurs during tragedy," he explained.

The 72-year-old Sherman said a thought may be sent from one person to another but may not be received because the mind of the other person is occupied. That is why, he said, many people say they have such experiences when they are asleep. Their conscience minds do not interfere.

ESP is the medium of communication for the future, Sherman said. He said it is a science of thinking in pictures and transmitting those thoughts to another individual. He said it is a method that people of different countries could use to communicate with each other without knowing a common language.

Sherman said it would be possible to transmit thoughts from outer space to a human receiver on Earth.

Sherman has been involved in a long-distance telepathic experiment.

In 1937 when Sir Hubert Wilkins was searching for lost Russian flyers in the Arctic, he sent telepathic messages to Sherman three times a week while Sherman was living in New York City, Sherman said. Sherman then wrote his impressions of what was taking place that day on the expedition, placed them in an envelope and mailed them to a third party for documentation.

Later, when Wilkins returned he compared his daily log with Sherman's recorded impressions. They matched.

Sherman said he often receives requests to help locate a missing person or a downed plane. He says he concentrates, often with the help of a personal belonging, on the circumstances and records his impressions on the instances.

Sherman became aware of his powers while he was in high school in Traverse City, Mich. He was typing one evening and as it grew dark he got up to turn on the light.

When he reached for the light switch a voice told him not to turn on the lights. He said he felt silly but sat back down.

A few minutes later, he heard a knock on the door and without turning on the lights, went downstairs. An employee of the power company was at the door and warned him not to use any electricity because power lines were down in the area.

Sherman then began to conduct experiments with classmates.

During one such experiment, Sherman said he sent a mental message to a friend that when the town clock struck 3 a.m. that morning he would awake and know that Sherman was responsible. The next day Sherman's friend told him he awoke exactly at 3 a.m. and somehow felt Sherman's presence.

Sherman attended the University of Michigan for a short time, and has worked for newspapers in Indiana.

Sherman's arrival in Arkansas in connected with ESP.

He was told by a man noted in the field of ESP to detour through Arkansas on his way back East from California.

Accompanied by his wife and two daughters, he found an old house sitting back from the road near Mountain View, and they moved in.

Sherman says he does not discuss ESP with the Mountain View residents, although he believes that positive thinking can accomplish much even in a low income area like Stone County.

To prove his point, Sherman recalled that when the Mountain View area wanted electricity the residents were told that the cost of clearing the right-of-way for the lines through the community would be prohibitive.

Residents then held a public meeting and decided to clear their own right-of-way and they did.

Recently Sherman led a campaign to clean up the litter in Stone County.

Writer, lecturer and community leader, Sherman is currently organizing an ESP workshop.

The ESP Research Associates Foundation will sponsor the workshop May 21-23 at the Arlington Hotel in Hot Springs.

Sherman says that at a similar meeting last year about 400 persons attended workshops on spiritual healing and other topics like astral projection, or leaving the body.

Among the speakers will be Bob Monroe, who is said to have been experiencing out-of-the-body travel for 12 years.

Ambrose and Olga Worrall of Baltimore, Md., also will be on the program. The Worralls are said to be faith healers.

COMING AND GOING

Mr. and Mrs. George "Boots" Smith and family motored to Dallas, Texas Saturday May 2nd where they spent the weekend with their children Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith and family and Miss Gwendolyn Smith.

While there, the family surprised Roscoe with a party on his birthday.

PERSONAL MENTION

Word was received yesterday by Mrs. Mamie Colbert of 513 Greenwood Street, city, that her son, El Davis Colbert was honored as the highest ranking student at Southwestern University, Weatherford, Oklahoma, where he is a Junior Foreign Language

Major. He is a 1962 graduate of Yerger High School, Hope, attended Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, California, from where he entered the United States Air Force and served four years in Japan. Upon returning from service, he entered Southwestern University. He has been named one of the outstanding players on the football team.

Soft Drink Labeling Is Attacked

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal health officials acknowledge receiving reports linking diabetic aggravation to sugar-sweetened soft drinks in bottles that nonetheless were labeled sugar-free or containing less than 1 or 2 calories.

The returnable bottles in question are carryovers from the days when cyclamates were the principal artificial sweeteners in low-calorie beverages.

Administration officials in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare overruled the Food and Drug Administration in March and allowed continued use of the bottles without relabeling. Cartons and bottle caps, however, must indicate the presence of sugar.

Diabetics complain the bottle label is likelier to be read than the cap or carton. In any case, they say, the labeling on the bottle is in clear conflict with the cap and carton.

Cases of diabetes aggravation traced to soft drinks have been reported in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Ohio and

Maj. R.C. McLaughlin Flying New Bomber

MAJ. R.C. MCLAUGHLIN

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Major Robert C. McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.O. McLaughlin of R.R. 4 Hope, Ark., is a pilot with the first Strategic Air Command (SAC) unit to receive the new FB-111A strategic bomber.

The 340th Bomb Group, Carswell AFB, Tex., provides maintenance and combat training for support personnel and the aircrews who will fly the dual seat supersonic aircraft when it becomes a part of the SAC deterrent force.

Simulated and actual flight training is accomplished at Carswell and maintenance personnel receive ground instruction on components such as the bomber's new Mark IIB Navigation-Bombing equipment and the highly sophisticated Terrain Following Radar System. The latter permits the aircraft to approach targets at a level that eludes detection by any known radar.

Major McLaughlin is playing a key role in the Air Force's program of adding the versatile bomber to its inventory.

The bottling problems arose after the government banned cyclamates from general purpose drinks last October.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Diabetic Must Use Care Against Infection

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

When Mr. Average Citizen gets a small cut, bruise or blister on his foot he is not unduly worried. With proper treatment, it will heal and be forgotten. But for the diabetic, these protective elements are not brought to the surface in amounts sufficient to kill them. Furthermore, the decreased presence of oxygen in the lesion enables germs that flourish only in the absence of oxygen to gain a foothold. Such germs invade normal tissues only when a wound is very deep.

Diabetes is characterized not only by a malfunction of the pancreas but also by a narrowing of the arteries. If the diabetes is not controlled, the arterial disease may affect any part of the body. Corns, by exerting a constant pressure on the small arteries in the toes, can also shut off the local blood supply in a diabetic and lead to gangrene.

The normal body's protection against infection—white blood cells and antibodies—is carried in the blood stream. Because in the diabetic the circulation is impaired, these protective elements are not brought to the surface in amounts sufficient to kill them. Furthermore, the decreased presence of oxygen in the lesion enables germs that flourish only in the absence of oxygen to gain a foothold. Such germs invade normal tissues only when a wound is very deep.

Open Fat Savings Account, Get Expensive Car 'Free'

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

Been to the bank lately? If not, you may have a surprise coming. These days it is apt to look like an automobile dealer's showroom.

The reason is that competition to offer depositors the fanciest merchandise has now escalated beyond the wildest dreams of most of us. Refrigerators, motor bikes and even expensive cars are now available to depositors with enough greenbacks to plant in the bank's vaults.

At first, these staggering offers seem to be the familiar promotional scheme gone berserk. A closer look, however, shows the new big-

In the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," the lord-high executioner has a list of people who would never be missed if he executed them.

We have our own list of bridge players who never will be missed. First and foremost is the declarer who looks over dummy and makes some remark about its strength or lack of strength. Not that we object to a polite "Thank you, partner" when he puts down the dummy.

South was one of those talkers. He looked at dummy for a microsecond and remarked, "It looks as if we haven't bid enough."

South could have made a grand slam if he had simply played the ace of hearts at trick two, ruffed a heart at trick three, led to his ace of clubs at trick four, ruffed another heart at trick five, led to his king of clubs at trick six, ruffed another heart at trick seven, returned to his hand by ruffing either a club or diamond at trick eight and played out his trumps for the last five.

He could not have made the grand slam against a trump lead because he would not be able to ruff out his last heart.

There were dozens of ways to make the small slam but South was able to work out a way to go down. Of course, a really bad player could have gone down by drawing trumps before getting around to ruffing hearts, but South wasn't that bad.

His losing line of play was to cash his ace and king of clubs and ace of hearts before doing anything else. Then he ruffed a heart with dummy's eight-spot. At this point, South had a guaranteed way to make six. He could cross-ruff with high trumps but South was still thinking about seven. He ruffed a diamond with a low trump, ruffed another heart and ruffed another diamond low. West overruffed and led a trump and South had tossed the slam away.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Peppermint is a perennial herb produced chiefly in muck soils in Michigan and Indiana, and sandy-loam soils in Oregon and Washington. The World Almanac says. Peppermint oil is distilled with steam from the partially dried herb and is used as an ingredient in confections, chewing gum, toothpastes, cough drops and mouth washes.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 Instead of bidding two spades your partner has bid two no-trump. What do you do now?
Answer Tomorrow

ticket items are a different breed of cat and one whose parentage is worth examining.

It all began modestly enough with banks offering small items as inducements to depositors. A set of matched screwdrivers, a carving knife or even an oversized piggy bank was considered sufficient motive to get people to open a savings account or to add to an existing one.

But as savers became more sophisticated, they began to find other ways to put their spare dollars to work. Banks found that ever-fancier premiums were necessary to attract those with money to spare.

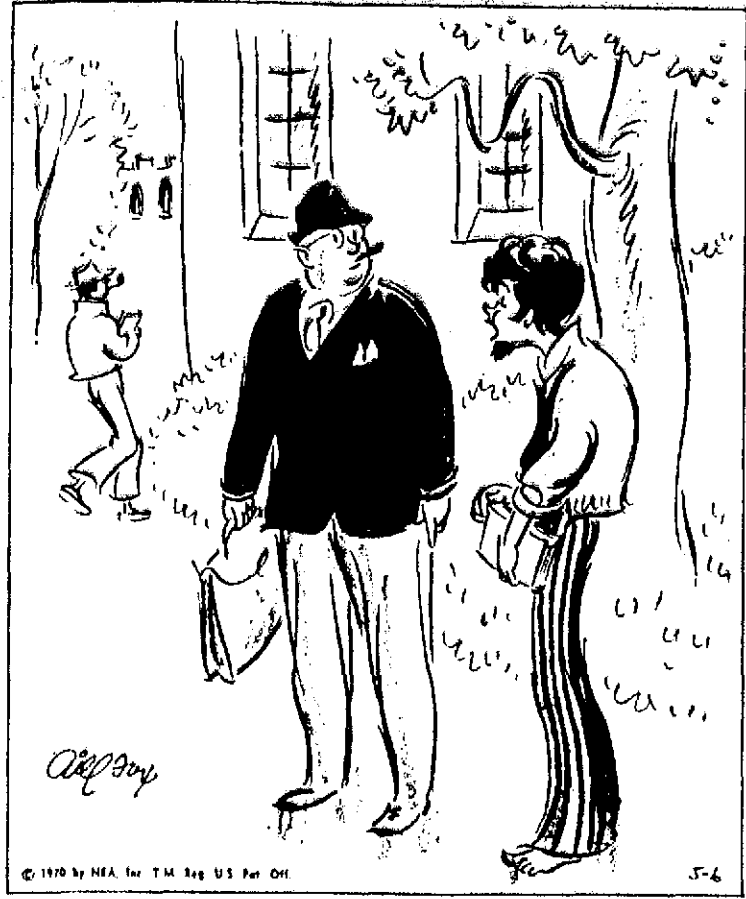

Electric mixers replaced screwdrivers, and piggy banks gave away to blankets as one bank strove to outdo the next in cajoling savers. Soon, those who worry about such things began to wonder how much any bank could afford to spend on a gift used to attract another $100 in deposits.

The answer to that soon became academic, for the next step in the premium escalation was to gear the value of the gift to the size of the deposit. Deposits of $1,000 or more brought their owner such things as an expensive tape recorder or a set of golf clubs.

Banks even began to reward customers for bird-dogging. Any depositor who could bring in five others

Wallace Is Forced Into a Runoff

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

George C. Wallace has been held to a runoff in Alabama's Democratic gubernatorial primary, leaving his political future and that of the third-party movement he leads hanging on a June 2 runoff.

Wallace fashioned a narrow lead over Gov. Albert Brewer in Tuesday's primary, neither man managing a majority vote.

Ohio voters apparently chose Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes and Democrat John H. Glenn, the former astronaut, to wage a crucial Senate contest.

These were the Tuesday returns:

Alabama, with 2,950 of 4,353 ballot boxes counted, gave Wallace 295,909 votes, Brewer 294,713.

Charles Woods, a scarred veteran of World War II, and a millionaire, ran third in the seven-man field. He had 106,468 votes, and that alone was enough to force the runoff.

In Ohio, with 10,377 of 13,248 polling places reporting, Rhodes had 379,721 votes, Taft 358,567.

Glenn had received 328,264 votes, Metzenbaum 319,056.

John J. Gilligan, a former congressman, won the Democratic nomination for governor.

He will run against Republican Roger Cloud, the state auditor.

After a campaign which included campus law and order among the issues, GOP voters gave Rhodes a hefty lead over Rep. Robert Taft, Jr.

In the Democratic primary, Glenn claimed victory over Howard Metzenbaum, a wealthy lawyer from Cleveland who waged a television blitz and sliced into the margin the former astronaut held when the campaign began.

The Senate seat is now held by Democrat Stephen M. Young, who is retiring. It looms as a vital one to Republicans hoping against increasing odds to capture the seven more seats needed to take control of the Senate after the Nov. 3 elections.

Ohio Republicans hoped at first to field a harmony ticket with Rhodes, who has served two terms as governor, going for the Senate, and Taft, who carries a revered Republican name, running to succeed him.

But Taft insisted on making a second bid for the Senate seat he sought six years ago.

Late polls showed Taft ahead, and Rhodes gaining.

When the issue of guardsmen on college campuses came up earlier in campaign debate, Taft was critical of the governor. But Rhodes retorted he would have no Berkeleys in

Pleads Innocent in City Shortage

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Doris Little, 53, of Jacksonville, charged on two counts of larceny in connection with alleged shortages in Jacksonville Water Department funds, pleaded innocent to the charges Tuesday.

The Pulaski County Grand Jury returned the indictments against Mrs. Little last month after hearing 17 witnesses. She is charged with one count of larceny in a shortage of $6,965 from the department on or before Dec. 19, 1968 and another count concerning a shortage of $5,026 on or before Jan. 13 of this year.

Some universities shut down altogether, others held rallies, prayer meetings or vigils. There were clashes with police on some campuses. On some others, there were indications of support for the move into Cambodia.

National Guardsmen patrolled at the University of Wisconsin in Madison after, police said, more than 35 persons were arrested in two days of window smashing and firebomb vandalism.

University spokesmen estimated 10,000 persons attended a campus rally Tuesday night to protest the President's deployment of troops in Cambodia and to hear a "people's petition" against the Kent deaths. The rally was peaceful but there was vandalism afterward.

The current wave of protests was touched off Monday when National Guardsmen called out by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes to control antiwar demonstrations at Kent State, fired into a crowd. Four students were killed.

The Faculty Senate Tuesday blamed Rhodes and his adjutant general, S. T. Del Corso, for the deaths.

Fifteen persons were injured early today when helmeted police armed with clubs and sidearms routed some 500 Seton Hall University students in South Orange, N.J. The students had camped around a street bonfire to protest the war.

Buffalo, N.Y., police fired tear gas and battled students on the campus of Buffalo State University and nearby streets Tuesday night. The incident involving about 500 students followed similar encounters during the day.

Police also used tear gas and clubs in the state capital building in Austin, Tex., to break up a demonstration by several hundred protesters who had marched from the University of Texas campus six blocks away.

Princeton University faculty voted to suspend classes for the remainder of the semester and took a stand as a group condemning the war in Southeast Asia. They also approved a two-week recess prior to the November election so students can work in political campaigns.

Boston University canceled final examinations and its scheduled May 17 commencement exercises at which Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was to have been the principal speaker.

The call for a nationwide student strike was made by Charles Gonzales, president of the 110,000-member Student National Education Association. There appeared to be a wide response.

Forecast Fair for Week-End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Weather Bureau is predicting a continuance of fair skies and mild temperatures through the weekend, with the exception of a few isolated showers and thundershowers.

A few showers or thundershowers are forecast for northern Arkansas tonight, and the weather bureau says there is the possibility of showers around the state Saturday with cooler temperatures predicted for Sunday.

Wednesday the warming trend continued around the state with highs reported in the upper 80s.

The highs Wednesday ranged from 88 at Pine Bluff to 83 at Fayetteville.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 47; Harrison, 58; Jonesboro, 62; Pine Bluff, 59; Texarkana, 57; El Dorado, 52; Memphis, 62; Little Rock, 54; and Fort Smith, 53.

No precipitation was reported during the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a.m. today.

Student War Guard Is Protest on Increase

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Students at a growing number of campuses across America today responded to calls for a nationwide strike against President Nixon's Cambodian policy and the Kent State killings.

Some universities shut down altogether, others held rallies, prayer meetings or vigils. There were clashes with police on some campuses. On some others, there were indications of support for the move into Cambodia.

National Guardsmen patrolled at the University of Wisconsin in Madison after, police said, more than 35 persons were arrested in two days of window smashing and firebomb vandalism.

Guard Is Defended in Kent Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Pentagon's top National Guard officer says the Ohio guardsmen were doing "the job they were told to do" in restoring law and order when four Kent State University students were shot to death.

"We're deeply concerned anytime a life is lost," said Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson Jr., who heads the National Guard Bureau. "Those guys were given a job of restoring law and order. That's what they were called for. They were doing their job as best as they can."

But Wilson, in an interview at his Pentagon office, said he wasn't at the scene of Monday's shooting and couldn't make any judgment as to responsibility for the incident.

Officially, the Pentagon is taking a hands-off attitude, leaving the investigation of the shooting in which four persons were killed and 10 others wounded to local and state agencies and the Justice Department.

The guardsmen were not federalized and therefore were under state, not federal control, a spokesman said.

Although the House Armed Services Committee probed guard actions in the deadly Detroit and Newark riots that led to new training rules three years ago, a staff official said there would be no new hearings.

"We've got enough problems around the world without looking for them here," he said.

Wilson said he sent an official from National Guard headquarters to the Kent State campus immediately after learning of the shooting, but only to act as a liaison with the Ohio guard.

Wilson was interrupted throughout the day Tuesday by calls from Capitol Hill, the White House and other Pentagon officials asking under what authority the guardsmen fired.

He referred them to a pamphlet on the "rules of engagement" drawn up by the Ohio National Guard and approved by guard headquarters at the Pentagon. Each state has a set of rules which follow the Pentagon's guidelines.

These rules say, according to Wilson, that "when all other things fail" in putting down a civil disturbance, "rifles will be carried with a round in the chamber."

Integration Delay Plea Rejected

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has rejected a proposed six-month delay in the desegregation plan for the Marion School District.

Officials of the Marion School Board went to Washington last week to confer with HEW on its integration proposals.

Supt. James H. Carter said the district asked for consideration of its building program in which a new high school will be ready about halfway through the 1970-71 school year.

Model Cities Deadline for Week-End Items

This is a special notice to clubs, churches, and other organizations sending week-end announcement stories and pictures to The Star.

All stories and pictures announcing coming events expected to be published in Friday or Saturday editions must be delivered to the newspaper office Wednesday, or postmarked Wednesday night for delivery first thing Thursday morning — or management reserves the right to omit publication.

This 48-hour deadline is employed on advertising, and now we are forced to invoke it on news announcements — because organizations have gotten into the habit of waiting until Friday morning to swamp the news desk with more copy and pictures than can be handled on short notice.
